Tour Schedule of Spiti Valley

Spiti Valley is Ladakh's lesser known neighbor and is practically a cold mountain desert which invites travellers who dare to drift away from the usual leisure trips. Spiti Valley boasts of picturesque landscapes and remotely tucked away villages in the mighty, barren midlands of Himalayas. It is in Spiti Valley that one can hike along Snow Leopard and Himalayan Wolf habitats and pay a visit to 1000 year old monastery. Spiti Valley offers a fascinating culture and cuisine which stands apart from the rest of the country.

Spiti Valley has the harshest of the weather but kindest of the people! Its amazing to see this unique combination - which only Spiti Valley has to offer. Spiti Valley remains cut off from the rest of India for 6 months of the year. Its almost impossible for one to reach Spiti Valley even through the Shimla - Kinnaur pass during other times of the year. Best possible months to visit Spiti Valley are from mid May to September.

In the name Spiti Valley - Spiti literally means 'middle land' as it is bordered by Tibet in the east, Ladakh to the north, Kinnaur to the south east and Lahaul and Kullu to the south. Situated at an average height of around 12,500 feet above mean sea level, Spiti lies along the Himalayan river of the same name. Cut off from the tourist map because of its remoteness, Spiti Valley, along with its twin valley of Lahaul, has retained its pristine charm. Another interesting fact about Spiti Valley is that Spiti Valley get Sunshine for only about 250 days a year!

Time table of Spiti Valley

Day	Detail
First	Start the day with breakfast post which you can drive to Barsheni crossing Kasol on the way.
First	Traverse through dense woods and arrive at the lush verdant pastureland of Khirganga decorated with sulphur springs and a few eating joints around.
First	This is where your day's trek comes to an end.
First	Settle down in camps for the night.
Second	Hike across the various meadows that will include both ascents and descents.
Second	While most part of the trek will comprise of forests, you will land the lush meadows of TundaBhuj.
Second	On arriving here, catch sight of the gigantic granite cliffs that overlook verdant prairies.
Second	At the end of the trek, experience the thrill of crossing the river with a Pulley Bridge.
Second	End your day's trek here by setting up camp and unwinding in the comfort of your tents.
Third	After having breakfast, head out on your trek which will entail some thrilling river crossings.
Third	Experience crossing over a boulder on a stream and then over the waters of the Parvati River on Pandu Bridge comprising of a massive rock and a stone staircase on one side.
Third	These river crossings are thrilling because sometimes the guides might not provide you with ropes.
Third	Set up your camps here and enjoy a good night's rest to be fresh for the next day's trek.
Third	Arrive at the visual delight of OdyThach bestowed with expansive pastures and the mighty KulluEiger peak that overlooks it.
Third	Come across a few shepherds here and interact with them to learn about the local cultures.
Fourth	After Breakfast start off with the trek along the river.
Fourth	This day's trail will comprise of flat terrains and only in the end will you experience a lateral climb.
Fourth	After completing the climb, arrive at a small temple located amidst beautiful environs.
Fourth	Here you can spend some time after which you can head towards the campsite cutting across small rivulets.
Fourth	End your day's trek here and cuddle up in your tents for the night.
